

Giuliano Mazzuoli

Giuliano Mazzuoli writing tools are made from a solid bar of aluminium, through an elaborate lathe and milling process. Every single structural component is then carefully finished and assembled by hand.

Writing Tools

What do bicycles have to do with pens? Nothing. There is only a memory that makes me feel a particular bond with the Officina line ("officina" means mechanical workshop in Italian). The picture is from 1923 and the little girl in the picture is my mother. My grandfather Renato had a mechanical workshop with lathes and cutters with which he built handcrafted bicycles.
