CARAN D'ACHE AND THE ART OF HAUTE ÉCRITURE

Since 1915, Caran d'Ache has perpetuated the art of writing and drawing with great passion. A flagship of Swiss manufacturing tradition, the company develops and produces all its Writing instruments and Fine Arts products in its workshops in Geneva under the "Swiss Made" label. Cultivating excellence, sharing passion, daring originality and embodying responsibility: these are the values of the Maison Caran d'Ache in the manufacture of its instruments. Durable, they are destined to accompany all generations in the free and authentic expression of their personalities.

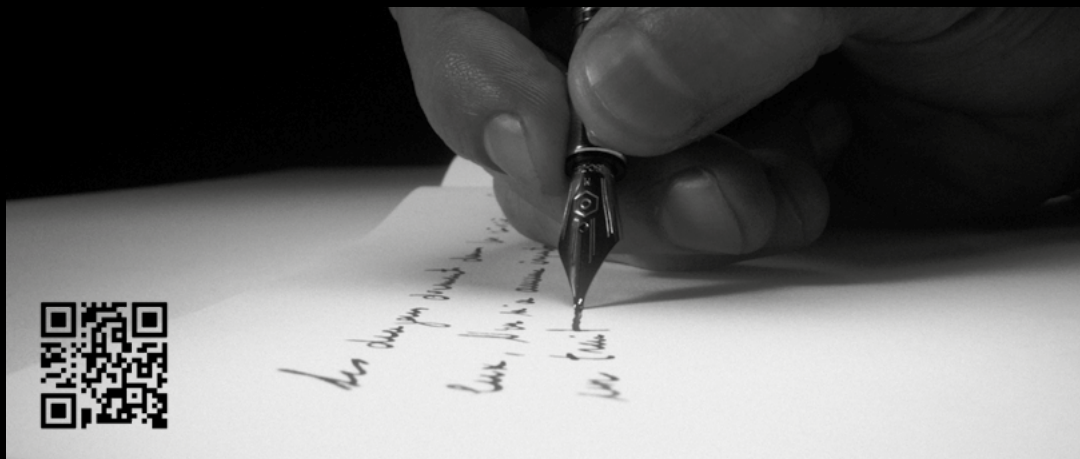

The Haute Écriture instruments from Caran d'Ache embody one hundred years of constantly renewed know-how. Since the 1930s, the company has developed unique expertise in creating fountain pens, rollerball pens, ballpoint pens and mechanical pencils that are both aesthetically pleasing and ergonomically designed. The Haute Écriture Collections are true marvels, embodying the passion of craftsmanship, and combining the nobility of materials such as gold, palladium, platinum and rhodium with creativity.

The Varius™, Léman™ and Ecridor™ Collections showcase all the talent of the master guillocheurs, lacquerers and polishers behind the bold originality of the shapes and materials. Ancestral knowledge guided by the tradition and passion of the company to create beautiful instruments. The chain mail, wood, gem stones, ceramic and Chinese lacquer give rise to outstanding instruments.

Caran d'Ache created prestigious Collections and numerous Limited Editions: From the Caelograph to the 1010 Timekeeper via the "Year of" creations and their tribute to Chinese astrology, these Haute Écriture instruments are pure works of art.

Quality and respect for the environment are an integral part of this production process. Once the different pieces have been produced, each Haute Écriture instrument is assembled by hand.

Caran d'Ache Writing instruments are a guarantee of distinction and prestige for anyone who uses them and wishes to write their story in their own distinct style.

EXPERTISE

THE ARTISTIC CRAFTS

ENGRAVING

The fine engraving that characterises Caran d'Ache writing instruments is the product of patient, meticulous work. The company's innovative techniques of milling and engraving with lasers or diamonds make it possible to produce a large variety of outlines and reliefs that bring a design to life by creating a delicate play of light and shadow. Whether it is guillochage or personalised engraving, each piece receives the same attention to detail, making the finished instrument a treasure of refinement.

POLISHING

A soft touch, comfortable writing and perfect design... sometimes sparkling, sometimes matt, each part of these Caran d'Ache products is carefully worked. All the writing instruments finished in precious materials are polished, which is also a very important operation when applying lacquer or Chinese lacquer.

THE UNIQUE EXPERTISE OF THE LACQUER MASTER

A finish that requires exceptional precision, lacquer gloriously enhances a writing instrument with an incomparable brilliance and its large palette of tints that Caran d'Ache is constantly extending. Because preparing and applying lacquer requires such extraordinary skills, the work of the lacquer master is uniquely valuable. It demonstrates the company's commitment to authenticity and excellence in every product it creates.

JEWELLERY

Setting diamonds, rubies, sapphires, emeralds, and engraving initials, a name, or even a short message... Caran d'Ache offers all lovers of rare objects the possibility of personalising their writing instrument. If they wish, they can choose the precious stones, which will then be set by a Geneva jeweller. Each personalised writing instrument is numbered, engraved and accompanied by a certificate. Gemstones used by Caran d'Ache are from controlled, ethical sources, are not involved in the financing of armed conflicts and conform to United Nations resolutions.

NOBLE MATERIALS

PRECIOUS METALS: SILVER, RHODIUM, PLATINUM, PALLADIUM

Caran d'Ache creations in silver or solid gold are systematically controlled by the Federal Office of Metals and are certified with its seal. Gold is the metal used in the most beautiful work produced by Caran d'Ache craftsmen. Like real goldsmiths, they sculpt it, decorate it, engrave it and polish it.

But Caran d'Ache also explores other horizons with rhodium, the metal in the platinum family whose hardness and rarity make it twice as expensive as gold. Extremely strong, it enables writing instruments to keep their brilliance over the years, protecting them from corrosion and rust, as well as abrasion and tarnishing. Rare, pure and inert, rhodium is the most exclusive of the precious metals used by the company.

CHINESE LACQUER

A natural, living product derived from the sap of the Rhus Vernicifera tree, Chinese lacquer regularly inspires the most beautiful creations of the Maison Caran d'Ache. Using traditional expertise inherited from the great oriental masters, the company is one of the very few in the world to have the secret. The multiple coats of lacquer are applied over a period of twelve days. Chinese lacquer, which may be natural colour or tinted with pigments, embellishes lighters and writing instruments in the Varius™ collections as well as the limited editions.

ECRIDOR™ AVENUE

Adorned with harmoniously-aligned engraved cubes, Ecridor™ Avenue celebrates the paving in Geneva's streets, highlighting a specific facet of the family firm's exceptional know-how. With Ecridor™ Avenue, Caran d'Ache invites aficionados of beautiful objects to take a stroll through the streets of Geneva. The city and its carefully aligned cobblestones have been transformed into a hundred polished quadrilaterals, which are delicately arranged and engraved on the body of the pen. This sophisticated edition features certain attributes which recall exceptional Swiss know-how in another field: watchmaking. The squares – so delicate to the touch and reflective of the light – are reminiscent of the links of a watch strap, paying homage to the mastery of precision mechanisms. This design and finesse lend Ecridor™ Avenue a resolutely urban and contemporary style while nevertheless respecting tradition.

ECRIDOR™ FLOWERS

The Maison Caran d'Ache presents Ecridor™ Flowers, inspired by the poetry of exotic gardens. Thanks to the expertise of artisans from the Swiss Manufacture, a luxuriant, heavenly natural environment places its radiant stamp on these emblematic Haute Écriture writing instruments. Since its creation in 1930, Ecridor™ by the Maison Caran d'Ache has celebrated the art of engraving on the hexagonal bodies of these iconic writing instruments. The master-craftsmen at the Geneva Manufacture apply their talent to unremittingly innovative techniques. The motifs displayed on the models in this emblematic collection reveal a series of universes that are inspiring, timeless, sophisticated and elegant. For the first time, Caran d'Ache combines two engraving techniques to create the plant motifs of which Ecridor™ Flowers is composed. Using a laser, the designs of leaves and petals are outlined with exceptional precision and delicate whiteness on the body of the ballpoint pen. The three different sizes of the stamens within the exotic flowers produce the radiance of precious stones.

LIMITED EDITIONS

DRAGON

Caran d'Ache is once again paying tribute to Asian culture with the creation of a Fine Writing instrument in the form of the fifth sign of the Chinese zodiac: the Dragon.

Celebrated once every 60 years, it is the Wood Dragon that takes pride of place in 2024. Brimming with enthusiasm and tireless energy, the Dragon is the embodiment of strength and success. Every aspect of its life is characterised by its creativity and imagination.

The body of this Limited Edition is an intense red colour, meticulously applied by our master lacquerer. From this scarlet backdrop emerges the dragon designed by Caran d'Ache's ambassador, Jean-Philippe Kalonji. The fantastic creature and its scales are delicately engraved on several levels, adding relief to this exceptional piece.

The Dragon and the metallic elements such as the clip, the button and the body of the fountain pen and rollerball nib boast 18-carat gold plating, creating a contrast with the gleaming red lacquer.

The Dragon is a Limited Edition of 888 fountain pens and 888 rollerball pens, each one individually numbered. The figure 8 is synonymous of perfect balance. The Dragon Limited Edition is intended for collectors who are aficionados of Chinese culture born under the sign of Dragon.

CHINESE ZODIAC

Caran d'Ache pays homage to the fine arts through its "Chinese calendar" collection, designed to bring the legend of the symbols of the Chinese zodiac to life.

According to legend, the Jade Emperor invited all the animals to a mysterious gathering on New Year's Eve. He wanted to organise a race between the different species to establish a hierarchy among the animals. Only twelve animals accepted the invitation. The Emperor then gave each animal a unique gift: henceforth, a year would be dedicated to them and would bear their name. This is how the order of the animal signs of the Chinese zodiac was established.

1. The Rat - 鼠 5. The Dragon - 龍 9. The Monkey - 猴
2. The Ox - 牛 6. The Snake - 蛇 10. The Rooster - 雞
3. The Tiger - 虎 7. The Horse - 馬 11. The Dog - 狗
4. The Hare - 兔 8. The Goat - 羊 12. The Pig - 猪

CHINESE LACQUER

Known since the 14th century BCE, the art of Chinese lacquer was developed during the reign of the Shang dynasty. The natural material comes from the sap of the "Rhus Vernicifera" tree, which is native to tropical Asia. Produced entirely by hand, the meticulous application of successive thin layers of lacquer requires unfailing patience. The hand polishing reveals its incomparable hues.

YEAR OF THE RABBIT

The fourth sign in the Chinese zodiac, the rabbit is known for its serenity, wisdom and good humour. Refined and discreet, this sign is appreciated for its unfailing calmness.

EDELWEISS

In 2024, Caran d'Ache invites you on a journey to the heart of the Swiss Alps with the creation of a beechwood instrument in the effigy of the emblematic mountain flower: the edelweiss.

Boasting a refined, noble decoration, Varius™ Edelweiss is a Limited Edition paying tribute to the natural heritage of the Alps. With a body made from Swiss beechwood engraved on three levels, it delicately and authentically reveals the plant's leaves. Noble (edel) and white (weiß), the edelweiss twines around the instrument, standing out in lacquer as white as snow applied by hand by the Caran d'Ache's master craftsmen. Amongst the leaves, the flower heads are represented by seven golden studs.

The latest addition to the Varius™ collection, Edelweiss embodies the art of noble materials and high technicity. This Limited Edition is capped off with a lacquered white button boasting a silver-plated, rhodium-coated finish, lending it refined look that lasts over time. The immutable rhodium covers the entire tip, the clip, the cap and the ring.

The Varius™ Edelweiss Limited Edition is available in three writing modes: ballpoint pen, roller pen and fountain pen. It is limited to 1,784 pieces – a tip of the hat to the date on which the name “edelweiss” came into being – and is engraved with the number “1 in 1784”.

Polished, lacquered, assembled and packaged by hand, Varius™ Edelweiss is a timeless creation intended for fans of Alpine art. The Swiss national flower, the emblem of Alpine guides and a protected plant since 1879, the little edelweiss embodies an entire part of Swiss cultural imagination, associated with numerous customs and legends, making this Caran d'Ache Limited Edition an icon of the Varius™ range.

OBERALP

Following the limited editions Poya and Rindya dedicated to the Swiss customs and Alpine traditions, the creation Oberalp salutes the refined expertise of the Caran d'Ache artisans in terms of figurative engraving. The Maison Caran d'Ache has developed the Oberalp limited edition in tribute to the Alpine spirit that is inextricably bound up with the intrinsic Swiss identity. The fascination of the mountains and its lively folklore, expressed through song, paintings, paper-cutting or the engravings on chalet façades, represent a living heritage that perpetuates the enduring Alpine spirit.

The Oberalp Pass

An iconic site within the Swiss Alpine heritage, the Oberalp Pass is located at an altitude of 2,044 metres at the very heart of the Swiss Alps. It links the Rhone and Rhine valleys along the watershed between North and South. From the start of the 19th century, Swiss alpine passes became the independent and neutral guardians of the major, transalpine communication routes. They continue to provide a crossing through the Alps to this day.

The Oberalp limited edition is dedicated to the mountain and Alpine spirit. A narrative frieze motif evokes the symbols of Alpine life and the idyllic scenery of the Swiss mountains. A second frieze, engraved on the other three sides of the pen, portrays the beauty of edelweiss flowers. Crafting these miniature frieze motifs reflects the finesse of the traditional Alpine art of paper- or wood-cutting. Each item is decorated with black lacquer applied entirely by hand. The body of the fountain pens and roller pens features the finely engraved outlines of three edelweiss blossoms. Paying symbolic homage to the highest point of the Oberalp Pass, Oberalp writing instruments are issued in a numbered series of 2,044.

CAELOGRAPH

Caran d'Ache unveils a unique Fine Writing instrument, the Caelograph, which combines technical expertise with design in exploring one of man's most fascinating passions: the sky. In its long tradition of innovation, Caran d'Ache has developed another exceptional writing instrument that demonstrates great creativity and expertise. Like inventors always searching for new solutions, the craftsmen at Caran d'Ache have worked closely with an astronomer to produce this unique instrument that explores the sky and the stars.

A personalised journey deep into the cosmos

Is it a writing instrument? A sky-watching tool? A work of art? The Caelograph is all of these. With a name that literally means "Write the sky" its ingenious mechanism allows you to see the position of the stars and the constellations at any given time, on any date. It brings alive the close, mystical relationship that has existed between man and the stars, Earth and sky, since the dawn of time.

As an instrument for writing and for observation, the Caelograph symbolises the union of arts and science, of the human being and the stars. Produced in three limited series, it is a compelling tribute to astronomy. The Caelograph features a sky chart that is delicately engraved on a night blue Chinese lacquer impregnated with silver particles. The grooves on the cap and the writing block are the hour lines typically found on sun dials. The pen's tip is embellished with a compass rose while the clip takes the form of a compass needle, evoking the ageless link between navigation and astronomy.

With great technical expertise, this exclusive invention presents a map of the sky in a design enhanced by a midnight blue Chinese lacquer. Apart from the natural requirement for accuracy, reproducing a flat map on the curved surface of a pen is a significant technical challenge. For the first time, the projection process known as Mercator has been applied to a writing instrument. In a second technical feat, Caran d'Ache has managed to represent, on a surface as small as the pen body, the 51 constellations and 353 stars visible from the northern hemisphere. And that is not all it does. The sky chart is mobile in order to indicate the position of the stars at any chosen time. This astonishing capability is made possible by an exclusive, highly ingenious mechanism based on two rings. One of the rings is mobile and is dedicated to the time, while the fixed ring is marked in days and months. By adjusting their position, the map can be set to the precise time and date required. A rotating semi-transparent sleeve reveals the visible part of the sky, indicates the horizon line, the compass points and the zenith.

THE "SIGNATURE" DETAILS OF THE COLLECTION

The natural appearance of smooth calfskin leather in 3 colours – black, midnight blue and beige – is a pleasure to be seen. Its suppleness and mineral tanning make it soft and pleasant to the touch. Each item is punched with a mark, a tip of the hat to the workers who stamp the pencils produced by the Geneva-based company. The hexagon, a key symbol of Caran d'Ache, is a simple sign identifying all the finishes in this leather goods collection. Red stitching is a subtle reminder of the original Caran d'Ache colour on all accessories and luggage.

SPIRIT OF EXCELLENCE

All the leather collections of the Maison are made in the fine tradition of luxury leatherwork. A European high-quality calfskin has been used to manufacture the Caran d'Ache accessories. The traditional tanning processes make the leather soft to the touch, bright and naturally smooth. Leather is a living material; its appearance can differ according to the veins and colour nuances and it acquires a patina over time. The surface of the brass metal parts receives a protective coating.

Designed in Isaac Reina's workshops in France / The selected leather is a European high-quality calfskin leather with mineral tanning from Italy / All metallic parts are made in Italy

THE MERCHANDISING

Our merchandising concept for writing instruments reflects a recent realisation by the company: the opportunity to present all our products and ranges in the same place and with the same identity.

To mark its centenary in 2015, Caran d'Ache unveiled a new, single logo for all its products. This logo, (while drawing on the history of the Brand) is clear, sober and modern, offering new visibility. It is sometimes also accompanied by the hexagonal isotype, directly inspired by the iconic pencils by Caran d'Ache.

It is against this backdrop, and with a desire to juxtapose our three worlds in a coherent manner, that the global retail concept has been defined. The Haute Écriture concept is thus the fruit of this new juxtaposition and adapts to the new codes and new identification. It, too, is clear and modern.

THE MERCHANDISING CATALOGUE

The aim of this document is to incorporate all the tools and guidelines in order to ensure optimum presentation of our writing range in our corners, our furniture or in any presentation space.
